SUCCESS FOR BULLAKEANA BRANGUS

By Tess

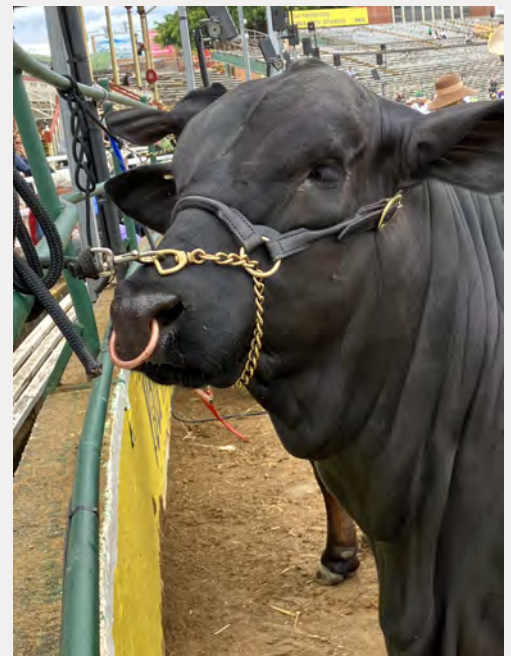

The Hanson family have had a very successful first Ekka, building on other show successes, with their Bullakeana Brangus cattle.

All five entries received ribbons and won a total of nine awards including the Breeder's Group and the Progeny Stakes Group – a group of three from the same sire.

Other awards included: the Reserve Senior Champion Cow or Heifer, Bullakeana Unaware, also the winner of the Senior Cow or Heifer, 20 to 24 months; and the Junior Champion Heifer, Bullakeana Vo Vo, also the winner of the Heifer, 14 to 16 months.

The cattle have consistently demonstrated award winning characteristics, and the Hanson family continue to do what they have always done, trusting their judgement of what they want in their cattle.

“What’s special with ours [cattle] is that we breed what we like and that’s the best thing you can do,” Hayden Hanson from Bullakeana said.

The Hanson family invest a lot of time in preparing the cattle to have them show ready and maintain their reputation for quality presentation of their animals.

“It’s pretty good [to have our cattle win an award], it gives us more advertising, and it shows that people like it [the animal],” Hayden said.
